Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 – 8 are pending in this Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1 and 4 – 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "A system that facilitates generating lists" in claim.

There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1 and 4 – 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

MPEP 2106 IV.B.2.(b)

A claim that requires one or more acts to be performed defines a process. However, not all processes are statutory under 35 U.S.C. 101. Schrader, 22 F.3d at 296, 30 USPQ2d at 1460. To be statutory, a claimed computer-related process must either: (A) result in a physical transformation outside the computer for which a practical application in the technological arts is either disclosed in the specification or would have been known to a skilled artisan, or (B) be limited to a practical application within the technological arts.

Claims 1 and 4 – 8, in view of the above-cited MPEP sections, are not statutory because they merely recite a number of computing steps without producing any tangible result and/or being limited to a practical application within the technological arts. The use of a computer has not been indicated.

These claim do not indicate use of hardware on which the software runs to perform the steps recited in the body of the claim. Software or program can be stored on a medium and/or executed by a computer. In other words the software must be computer-readable. The use of a computer is not evident in the claim. MPEP 2106.IV.B.1(a) refers to “computer-readable” medium with computer program encoded on it.”

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Art Unit: 2162

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1 – 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent Number 6,526,411 issued to Sean Ward.

With respect to claim 1, Ward teaches a system that facilitates generating lists, the system (column 1, line 67 – column 2, line 3) comprising:

a user data store that stores user items (column 2, lines 6 – 11);

an identifying system that associates descriptive metadata with user items (column 2, lines 54 – 58); and a list generation system adapted to receive at least one seed item (column 5, lines 25 – 27 and Figure 5), the list generation system analyzing descriptive metadata associated with the at least one seed item and the user items, and matching the at least one seed item to a subset of the user items (column 2, lines 37 – 45 and column 3, lines 30 – 41), the list generation system outputting a list corresponding to the subset of user items (column 2, lines 40 – 44).

As to claim 2, the user data store resides on a client computing system (column 4, lines 8 – 16).

As to claim 3, the list generation system resides on the client computing system (column 4, lines 8 – 16).

As to claim 4, the one or more list items are songs (column 4, lines 40 – 51).

Art Unit: 2162

As to claim 5, the songs are identifiable by at least one of an artist name, an album name and a track name (column 4, lines 40 – 50).

As to claim 6, the descriptive metadata comprises information concerning at least one of a genre, a subgenre, a style, a mood, a vocal coding, a rhythm type and a rhythm description (column 4, lines 40 – 58).

As to claim 7, the list corresponding to the subset of user items is a song playlist (column 3, lines 1 – 4 and column 4, lines 40 – 58).

As to claim 8, the list items comprise at least one of movies, documents, books, music videos and sound recordings (column 4, lines 40 – 56 and column 5, lines 47 – 51).
